58 Americans Perish in Northern Japan Typhoon

Total Dead is Officially Listed at 1,802

Government Begins Investigation; Charge Warnings Ignored

TOKYO, Tuesday — The government began an investigation today to learn whether typhoon warnings which might have prevented Japan's worst peacetime sea disaster were criminally ignored.

Fifty-eight Americans were among the dead or missing which official reports now placed at 1,802—most of them aboard five large passenger, freight and railroad ferry boats which capsized in mountainous seas and 180-mile-an-hour winds.

The boats were on the run between the islands of Honshu and Hokkaido and all went down around midnight Sunday. The Coast Guard reported more than 600 other boats sunk or missing.

The greatest single disaster befell the sea-going railroad ferry boat Toya Maru which capsized with the apparent loss of 1,149 lives, including the missing Americans.

Government investigators hinted at possible criminal action against negligent officials or shipping companies.

Captain is Blamed

The Hokkaido district Marine Court declared after a preliminary investigation that responsibility for loss of the Toya Maru should be placed on its captain, Hiraichi Kondo, because he "betrayed the typhoon warning and put out to sea in the storm."

Weather forecasters levelled the same charge.

Answering attacks on alleged failure of weathermen to warn of the disaster, Sapporo Weather Bureau chief Toshiro Shibata said the increasing intensity of the typhoon was flashed every 30 minutes Sunday afternoon and evening.

Shibata said, "We had warned that the typhoon would pick up strength as it approached Hok-

Dulles Tells Mendes-France U. S. May Have to Revise 'Forward' European Defenses

LONDON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today warned French Premier Pierre Mendes-France that the United States will be forced to revise its "forward" European defenses unless agreement is reached at the conference opening here Tuesday on rearmament of West Germany.

Dulles, in a 90-minute conference with the French premier, assured Mendes-France that the United States will back any satisfactory new defense system evolved in the nine-nations foreign minister conference.

Three Concerts Scheduled as Drive Closes

The campaign for new memberships for the Community Concert association closed Saturday evening at 6 o'clock with a very substantial increase in new members from Harrisburg and the surrounding towns of Eldorado, Rosiclare, Shawneetown, Ridgeway, Omaha, Norris City, Carrier Mills, New Burnside, Benton and Thompsonville.

The increase made it possible to obtain artists for three fine concerts this coming season. The Song Masters, a quartette of men with a woman accompanist, will be here on Nov. 21. The dates for the other two concerts are to be determined before the membership cards are mailed out to the members. The cards will carry the names and dates of all three concerts.

The last two will be a violin and piano team, de la Fuente and Stessin, and The Angelaires, a group of five girls playing Italian harps.

Membership in the Harrisburg association also entitles a member to enjoy the concerts in Carbondale, all of which are very fine this year. Their program is as follows: The Totenberg Ensemble, Monday, Dec. 6; DePaur Infantry chorus, Friday, Jan. 7; Rise Stevens, Thursday, March 24, and Leon Fleisher, Wednesday, April 13.

These are all evening programs, and announcement of busses from Harrisburg for these concerts will be made. Also, the attention of the members will be called for local programs.

The Harrisburg Community Concert association would like to take this opportunity to thank The Daily Register, radio station WEBQ, Skaggs Electric and all the sales people in the communities who helped to carry on the annual drive for renewing old and obtaining new membership in the organization.

Chas. T. Riley, 79, Dies at Rosiclare

Charles T. Riley, 79, resident of Rosiclare, died Sunday at 1 a. m. at the Hardin county General hospital in Rosiclare.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Missionary Baptist church in Rosiclare with the Rev. O. R. Gregg and Rev. Eugene Piff officiating. Burial will be in the White chapel cemetery in Kentucky.

Sen. Jackson Charges Wilson Favors GM

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson Sunday night accused the Defense Department of fostering monopoly in the auto industry by concentrating contracts in General Motors.

The Washington Democrat charged that the department, under Secretary Charles E. Wilson, is helping drive independent auto makers out of business by favoring GM. A member of the Armed Services Committee, Jackson said he will give information showing that policy to the chairman and other committee members.

"I strongly believe that this Wilson policy has the gravest implications not only for the health of our economy but for the safety and effectiveness of our defense production facilities as well," Jackson said in a statement.

He made public figures supplied him by the Defense Department which he said showed that net new contracts (new contracts minus cancellations) to General Motors were increased by $1,700,000,000 in the first 18 months of the Eisenhower administration while net contracts of all other auto makers declined by $395,000,000. Wilson, a former GM president, became defense secretary when the Eisenhower administration took office.

Voters Approve Sale of 3 School Sites, Buildings

The proposition of Harrisburg City school district 43 to sell the sites and buildings formerly used for Ingram Hill, Pleasant Valley and Cain schools, was approved unanimously by voters at the election held at the Junior High school Saturday.

A minimum of interest was shown.

There were 37 votes cast. One ballot was spoiled and all others voted for the proposition, except one voter marked only the section of the ballot pertaining to Ingram Hill school.

The next step in the sale of the sites, abandoned through annexations of the districts to Harrisburg schools, will be setting of a date of sale and advertising the sale of the sites and buildings.

Due public notice will be given so that all interested may bid on the sites.

Keep Pets from Following Children to Schools: Humane Society

The Harrisburg Humane society, in co-operation with the city schools and city police department, today urged that pets be kept from following children to school.

Last week a pet dog was killed by an auto on Granger near Poplar, the society reported.

The society also announced today that it would hold a rummage sale, called The Country Store, in about two weeks and asked all persons who have rummage they would like to donate to aid the work of the society to call or see Mrs. Tim Turner.

28 YEARS SERVICE as general superintendent of the Harrisburg First Baptist Sunday school was recognized Sunday when Rev. Joe Morman presented a plaque to Fred G. "Bob" Burnett. Mr. Burnett retired officially as superintendent at the close of Sunday school Sunday, that being the last day of the Sunday school year. He is succeeded by Ed Brantley as general superintendent, but will continue active in the Sunday school as superintendent of Adult Department Two, under a newly instituted graded system. The plaque presented to Mr. Burnett was the gift of the various department superintendents and Mora Laxton, the latter being instrumental in the arrangements. (Daily Register Photo)

PMW Approves Moving Union Headquarters to Belleville Area

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The Progressive Mine Workers have voted to move their headquarters to the Belleville area.

By a vote of 40-38, delegates to the independent union's 12th constitutional convention approved a resolution calling for moving the PMW out of Springfield to the Belleville area.

The action was taken at the convention here last week. It was disclosed today when the union issued a summary of resolutions adopted at the convention.

Backers of the resolution argued that the union headquarters should be located in southwestern Illinois, closer to the coal mines where most of the PMW members are employed.

Another approved resolution calls for redistricting of Illinois into three board member districts, eliminating one now existing.

Officers of social security and unemployment compensation representative, workmen's compensation representative, one auditor, and alternate board members were abolished.

The convention voted to require $1 monthly dues from all members

Thieves Steal 87 Guns at Cairo, Valued at $5,365

CAIRO, Ill. (UP) — Burglars who broke into a wholesale hardware company here Sunday and stole 87 shot guns and rifles used the front door, probably because the back of the building is across the street from the police station.

The thieves broke into the Woodward Hardware Co. between 3 and 4 a. m. and carried off guns valued at $5,365. Police Chief John Shepherd Jr., said the burglars took a freight elevator to the third floor, loaded the guns weighing a total of 700 pounds on a hand truck and took them down on the elevator and probably loaded them onto a truck.

Shepherd said he thought the burglars might be the same ones who have made similar break-ins and thefts in nearby Kentucky and Missouri cities recently.

Mitchell Charges Nixon with 'Outright Lie'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has charged Vice President Richard M. Nixon with telling "an outright lie" when he claimed the Republicans fired "thousands" of Communists from the government.

Mitchell said President Eisenhower recently made a similar statement and noted that Presidential Assistant Bernard Shanley once "retracted" such a statement.

In a television interview (NBC "Youth Wants to Know"), Mitchell was asked to comment on a statement by Nixon that the Eisenhower administration had removed "hundreds, yes thousands" of subversives from government.

Mitchell said the vice president made "an outright falsehood." A bit later he was asked to "clear up" his statement. The questioner wanted to know if he was accusing Nixon of "an outright lie."

Mitchell said he was and added: "Is that clear? I hope it's clear to him, too."

Civil Service Report

Early this year, the Civil Service Commission reported that 2,468 federal workers had been separated or allowed to resign as a result of investigations launched under the President's security program. It said, however, that only 429 cases involved any "subversive" information.

Mitchell asserted that the GOP claim voiced by Nixon had been disproved a number of times. The Democrats have charged that the administration lumped as "subversives" all government employees who resigned or who were removed for a variety of reasons.

Asked if there were any more "scandals" such as the Dixon-Yates contract in the GOP "closet," Mitchell said he expected there would be "developing incidents of that same type." As for his past criticism of President Eisenhower, he said:

"This was a raw deal and you can't talk about it unless you talk about the man who made it, the President of the United States."

Special Group Advises Action On Two Counts

Senator is Found Contemptuous of Senate, Abused General

WASHINGTON (UP) — A special Senate committee unanimously recommended today that the Senate censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy on two grounds — for contempt of the Senate and for abusing an Army general.

The Senate has been called back into session Nov. 8 to consider the recommendations of the six-man censure committee headed by Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah).

The committee spent nine days from Aug. 31 to Sept. 13 hearing five general censure charges against the Wisconsin Republican. In today's 68-page report it criticized him in strong terms for his conduct in connection with three of the charges but did not propose censure on those counts. The two charges on which the committee did recommend censure were:

1. That McCarthy was in contempt of the Senate when he failed to appear before a 1951-52 elections subcommittee that investigated his finances and other activities. The committee said McCarthy was "contemptuous, contumacious and denunciatory, without reason or justification, and was obstructive to legislative process."

2. That he abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, World War II combat hero and former commander of Camp Kilmer, N. J. McCarthy's conduct toward Zwicker at a secret hearing in New York last February was, the committee found, "reprehensible, and for this conduct he should be censured by the Senate."

On the other three counts in the "indictment" against McCarthy the committee found:

1. That charges McCarthy encourage federal employees to violate their oaths or executive orders, "do not, under all the evidence, justify a resolution of censure." But it said McCarthy's conduct in inviting federal employees to supply him secret information "cannot be condoned and is deemed improper."

2. That charges he improperly received and used secret government information do not justify censure. But the committee said he "committed a grave error" in this respect.

3. That he used abusive language toward some of his Senate colleagues do not warrant censure. But the committee said McCarthy's remarks about Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.), whom he had called senile, "were highly improper." The investigators said McCarthy's remarks were "induced by Senator Flanders' conduct in respect" to him.

McCarthy was not immediately available for comment on the findings. He was reported to be visiting.

This architect's sketch shows the new building which is about to get under construction for Irving I. Hudes' Advanced Methods, Inc. manufacturing concern. The sketch, by C. V. Norton, architect, of Norton Co. Designers, St. Louis, shows a masonry building, 300 feet long, with Roman brick facade and trimming, which is to be constructed on a plot of ground across from the pauper farm at Dorrisville. Herman Boatright is superintendent of construction for the project, assisted by Sam Potter. Construction is rapidly nearing completion on the smaller building of the Hudes plant, a 40-ft. x 90-ft. concrete block structure on the southwest corner of the factory area.

Advanced Methods, Inc., incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing cigarette lighters and small collapsible camping stoves, has agreed to hire a minimum of 120 persons for at least three years, in return for financial consideration from the Harrisburg Jaycees to help in the initial construction. The Jaycees have raised a large portion of the required sum through solicitations of local businessmen, and an appeal was made recently to individuals in private life, to place a dollar in an envelope and mail it to the Jaycees as a contribution to the factory fund. Response has been very gratifying so far, and it is hoped Harrisburg's economy.

Gaiety Club Enjoys "Backwards Party"

Mrs. Leanna Austin entertained the Gaiety club Wednesday evening with a "backwards party" with all members and one guest present.

The guests arrived with their clothes on backwards including their hats. They entered by the back door and backing in.

During the business session plans were made to have a bake sale election day, Nov. 2, in front of Hart's news stand.

Mrs. Lorelli Jennings was the winner of the towel shower.

During the recreation game prizes were awarded Pauline Beasley, Opal Santy, Muriel Thomas and the grand prize winner was Alma Jean Van Hoy.

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, jello salad, potato chips, apple pudding topped with ice cream and coffee were served to the following: Mrs. Mary Louise Martin, Mrs. Muriel Thomas, Mrs. Angelina Prather, Mrs. Pearl Field, Mrs. Lorelli Jennings, Mrs. Opal Santy, Mrs. Elsie King, Mrs. Elsie Lea Ammon, Mrs. Aline Hart, Mrs. Pauline Beasley, Mrs. Alma Jean Van Hoy and the hostess.

The next meeting will be Oct. 7 at the home of Mrs. Aline Hart.

$89,613 Savings Bonds Purchased in County During August

Residents of Saline county purchased a total of $89,613 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in the month of August, according to figures received from the Treasury Department by Walter Bargman of Harrisburg, volunteer Savings Bonds chairman in the county.

August sales in the state were the greatest for any August in the peacetime bond program totaling $39,649,029, an increase of 26.7% over sales for August 1953 according to T. Merle Paul, State Director of the Illinois Savings Bonds Division.

More than one-half the earth's surface is covered by sea, but only about one per cent of the food for the world's 2,500,000,000 people comes from this huge water area.

Fame Assured if Ambassador Luce Licks Handbag Problem

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — nificance, just don't know from Clare Boothe Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, thinks something ought to be done about women's handbags. They bother her.

By wearing flat-heeled shoes instead of spikes for her daily work, Mrs. Luce can keep up with the men, most of the time.

(She's usually considerably ahead of the boys.)

But whenever Mrs. Luce goes into a business session with males, she feels that she is handicapped by the handbag which fashion, custom, tradition or whatever you call it—even necessity—has decreed that all women must carry.

She sits down at a luncheon conference. First question on the agenda is, What shall she do with the handbag? She holds up a perfectly beautiful big patent leather job and calls it, "This."

Does she plump it on the table where she can get at it, but where it hides the flowers? Or does she put it under her chair where it is most inconvenient and almost ungettable? That is the top urgent issue.

MRS. LUCE HAS HAD MANY at her suits designed with pockets. They are not just little decorative patches, too small to hold a dime, or just barely big enough to catch one corner of a lace handkerchief. They are full size pockets that would make her great-grandmother green with envy.

What's more, Mrs. Luce says she puts things in her pockets and carries them there. But in spite of all the cargo she can possibly stow in her pockets, it still isn't enough space. So she must carry a handbag. "This," an abattoir around her neck couldn't receive more scorn.

Mrs. Luce's new economic policy in re. handbags may be said to be still in the planning stage. What this really means is that she probably hasn't put her pretty mind to work on it. She is just protesting mildly, improvising from day to day and wishing that somebody else would do something about it.

But anyone who thinks this news in itself is not fraught with significance, just don't know from nothing.

AMBASSADOR LUCE'S SKILL as a diplomat in keeping America's relations with Italy on an even keel and in trying to help settle the troublesome Trieste issue may make her more famous than she already is.

But if her ideas about women's handbags can be put across, the effect on civilization is going to be positively revolutionary. It will be more sensational than anything the Communists have thought up for changing the world. It will even be more sensational than anything Prior has thought up.

Millions—millions nothing, make it a billion and begin again. A billion women, now slaves to the relentless dictatorship of fashion, now spend 27,463,900 per cent of their lives, according to the latest statistics from the UN Economic and Social Council, going through their handbags, looking for things that are there but can't be located.

IF FEMALES COULD BE liberated from this curse, think how much it would raise—or lower—the world average standards of living. Besides, men are so helpless and can only sit in silent suffering, when women go through handbags.

Manufacturers of handbags, the handbag designers association and the union of handbag makers, if there is one, will probably protest that any all inside-out reform in the handbag situation will cause widespread unemployment and social change.

But the idea hasn't gone that far, yet. This is just an aide memoire on the status quo, not a coup d'etat, as they say in the State Department.

There is another catch to this handbag reform idea. If handbags ever should be abolished, what in the world would men give their wives and best girls for Christmas, birthdays, anniversaries, or on return from business trips, as souvenirs? Men should think this over carefully, and not go anything rash.

But if the beautiful and brainy Mrs. Luce ever gets around to doing anything about this situation, the world will build a monument to her in Italian marble, higher than the Statue of Liberty.

Ridgway High to Begin Adult Class In Home Economics

An adult class in home economics is being offered this fall at the Ridgway Community high school, Mrs. Robert Walker, home ec teacher at the high school has announced. An organizational meeting will be held tomorrow night at the school building.

Any adult of the community who is at least 16 years of age and not now enrolled in the day school is eligible to enroll in the tuition-free class, Mrs. Walker stated. Content of the course will be determined largely by the interests of those who enroll.

Classes will meet one night each week for ten consecutive weeks, meeting night to be determined by the class members. Those interested are urged to attend the organizational meeting Tuesday evening or contact Mrs. Walker.

It has also been announced that Ridgway high school has been selected as a teaching training center for home economics students currently enrolled at SIU. Dr. Anna Carol Fultz, resident teacher trainer for home ec students at SIU, has notified Mrs. Walker that two student teachers will be assigned to Ridgway for a six-week period commencing the last week in October.

France Hall of Raleigh Celebrates 94th Birthday

A birthday dinner was held Sept. 11 in Raleigh in honor of the 94th birthday of France Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who was 83 in April, were married 60 years ago in 1894, on Feb. 21, in the court house in Harrisburg by the late Judge Abney.

Mrs. Hall is the former Miss Helen Odle of Hamilton county. They have three children: Dave and Ralph of Raleigh and a daughter Monnie Hall of Aurora.

Both are quite active, especially Mr. Hall who enjoys a hobby which is making things from wood such as whatnots and porch furniture. Recently he completed a nice porch seat which he made from a discarded baby bed and thread spools.

Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hall and son, Ronnie, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers and son, Dwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall and daughter, Carol, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Sally Dudley, Oscar and Ethel Reed of Harrisburg, Otis and Edith Gammon of Fairfield, and Monnie Hall of Aurora.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Dickerson of Bethel A. M. E. church will leave Tuesday morning for Springfield where they will attend the 83rd session of the Illinois Annual Conference of the A. M. E. churches. The session opens Tuesday evening and will last through Oct. 5. Rev. Dickerson wishes to thank his congregation and friends and the business firms for their cooperation financially.

First Methodist Circles Meet With Respective Hostesses

The circles of the First Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon.

The Dorcas division met with Mrs. T. A. Wilkison with 14 members present. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Jennie Brown and Mrs. Harley Shepherd gave the devotion, using John 14:6 as her topic. The lesson was presented by Mrs. C. E. Wing, delegate to the fourth assembly held in Milwaukee, Wis., who gave an interesting review of the work book that was used at the assembly.

Mrs. Coy Hood was chosen as the new chairman to take the place of Mrs. Joe Gaul who is resigning. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Wilkison was assisted by Mrs. Charles Gaskins and Mrs. John Stohart in serving refreshments of coffee and Hawaiian delight pudding.

Mrs. D. L. Shain, assisted by Mrs. D. R. Brown and Mrs. Jesse Hunt, was hostess to the Lydia division of which Mrs. W. J. Cooley is president.

Twenty-seven members were present. Mrs. L. N. Davenport opened the meeting with prayer, and the devotion was presented by Mrs. H. M. Jones. Mrs. J. C. Gasaway gave the lesson.

"Dolly Cousins" were distributed to the members to sell and plans were made for a rummage sale which will be held Oct. 15 in the Gaskins building, corner of Vine and Poplar streets.

The Martha circle met Sept. 22 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Smith with 23 members present. Mrs. Lola Cox opened the meeting with prayer. The devotion was given by Mrs. H. O. Buell, and the lesson was given by Mrs. B. E. Montgomery.

Refreshments of punch and delicious homemade cookies were served by Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mrs. J. O. Hall and Miss Sally Guard.

Mrs. Ed Gaskins was hostess to 22 members of the Naomi circle, assisted by Mrs. O. E. Barter, Mrs. Carrie Barter and Mrs. H. N. Finney.

An impressive devotion was given by Mrs. C. L. Petty after which Mrs. B. W. Rude and Mrs. Amon Jones gave the lesson.

The chairman, Mrs. Gladys Gibbs, presided over the meeting. The Ruth division met with Mrs. E. M. Travelstead, assisted by Mrs. C. E. Taylor and Mrs. Herman Schwartz. Mrs. Raymond Chase is chairman.

There were 20 members present and two guests. Mrs. Schwartz led in prayer and Mrs. C. M. Jones gave the devotion entitled "Jesus Christ The Way." Mrs. Robert Melven gave the lesson, "The Christian Citizen in National and International Affairs."

Mrs. Bruce Polk Hostess To Chapter Z, P. E. O. Mrs. Bruce Polk was hostess to Chapter Z, P. E. O., at its first fall meeting Friday afternoon. Among those present was Mrs. George Barnes, a new member who was initiated into the chapter at a special summer meeting held at the home of Mrs. F. M. Sullivan. Another new member initiated at that time was Miss Dorothy Durham, who is now living in San Mateo, Calif.

The chapter president, Mrs. Lloyd L. Parker, gave an account of a meeting held at Lawrenceville during the summer at which time plans were begun for a State convention for this area in 1957. Mrs. C. E. Combe and Mrs. K. C. Capel, who are also on the convention committee, accompanied Mrs. Parker.

In the absence of Mrs. R. E. Metcalf, program chairman, Mrs. Ray Durham presented the year book and outlined its general theme, "Mystery and Magic."

Mrs. Durham introduced Mrs. C. E. Combe, who gave a history of the local chapter from 1942 to 1953, a very appropriate subject for the beginning of a new year.

Mrs. Combe, as history chairman for the State, compiled the report, dedicating it to those who love and serve together. It afforded the older members an opportunity to reminisce and provided a wealth of information to the newer members.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDonald and Mrs. Floy Taylor from Paducah, Ky., have returned to their homes after visiting in Harrisburg with Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Cletcher and Mrs. Della McDonald.

World's largest dam is Fort Peck, which has a volume of 128,000,000 cubic yards.

Mrs. Bill Lands Hostess to Town and Country Home Bureau

The Town and Country Home Bureau unit met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bill Lands for the regular session.

The new officers for the coming year officiated for their first time. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Bob Lane, and minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Denny Simpson, and approved.

The president appointed a committee to plan a Halloween party for the October unit meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Gurn Skelley.

Mrs. Jim Bolen and Mrs. Harry Harper, home adviser, gave the minor topic on the making of belts. Everyone was urged to try and bring a new member to the next meeting.

Present were two visitors, Virginia Pierce and Larry Lands, Mona Lane, Elizabeth Bolen, Beulah Glass, Mary Harper, Helen Walker, Wilma Simpson, Regina Skelley, Norma Carpenter and the hostess, Joan Lands.

Mrs. Willard Bramlet Hostess To Wagon Home Bureau Unit

The Wagon Home Bureau unit met Wednesday with Mrs. Willard Bramlet. The business session was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Clarence Barton.

Dues were paid, reports given and a membership committee appointed.

The minor topic was given by Mrs. Walter Glascock on "Belt Making." Mrs. Mary Harper, home adviser, presented the major lesson, "New Food Products Available."

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following: Mesdames E. M. Barton, Walter Glascock, Leonard Barton, F. E. Bramlet, Harmon Bramlet, Al Purcell, Clarence Barton, Emil Choiser, Glen Thomas, Sherman Bramlet, Vern DeVille, Barnard Smith, Lloyd Barton, Raymond McConnell and Harry Harper.

Crescent Home Bureau Meets With Mrs. Carl Woolcott

The Crescent Home Bureau unit met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Woolcott, 7 North Jackson. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Jim Johnson and Mrs. Paul Vinyard.

The minor topic on "Belts and Methods of Closing" was given by Mrs. Eugene Irvin, and the major topic, "New Food Products Available," by Mrs. Harry Harper, home adviser.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Johnson. The recreation prize was awarded to Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr.

The October meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Jarrell.

Present were Mrs. C. Wayne Brown, Mrs. Eugene Irvin, Mrs. Frank Jarrell, Mrs. Cecil Harris, Mrs. Darrell Piper, Mrs. Thelma Patton, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Paul Vinyard, Mrs. Carl Woolcott, Mrs. Bob Rose, Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr., Mrs. Edgar Price, Mrs. Jim Johnson and Mrs. James Stinson.

Three From Harrisburg Attend Grand Temple

The 62nd annual session of the Grand Temple of the Pythian Sisters was held at Springfield Sept. 20-22 in the Abraham Lincoln hotel. Myrtle Rutz, from Highland, Ill., was the grand chief.

Mrs. Robert (Nellie) Eddy is the district deputy of the grand chief.

Mrs. Rudy (Ruby) Walker, representative from Harrisburg, attended, along with Mrs. James (Gertrude) White and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cole To Have Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cole (Ed and Ada) are observing their 25th wedding anniversary Tuesday, Sept. 28, with "open house" at their home, 110 West South, from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.

They extend a cordial invitation to friends to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson have returned from Colorado Springs, Colo., where they attended the sessions of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. and the Association of the Rebekah Assemblies. Mrs. Johnson was Grand representative from Illinois to the Rebekah meeting. Seventeen nations were represented at the I. O. O. F. affair. Mrs. J. C. Thompson of Harrisburg, mother of Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. James Wilhite of West Frankfort, who like Mrs. Johnson is a past president of the Rebekah State Assembly, accompanied them to Colorado Springs. Mrs. Thompson was met by a daughter, Anna Lee Graizer, at Colorado Springs and went to California with her daughter for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of New London, Wis., returned home Saturday night after visiting in Harrisburg. Carrier Mills and Eldorado with relatives and friends. Mr. Davis was here also in the interest of his oil well in Tonti, Ill. While in Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cooley spent Saturday in Evansville, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barker of East Alton visited in Harrisburg with her father and brother, E. E. Ledford Sr. and E. E. Ledford Jr., then departed on a vacation trip into the Black Hills of the Dakotas.

Mr. and Mrs. Connie Vander-Pluym returned home Saturday night from a month's vacation trip which took them into the Southwest and West.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weir, Eldorado, and Morris Rister, Evansville, spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Givens in this city.

Most thunderstorms occur on the island of Java.

Attlee Recommends UN Seat for Red China

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — The leader of Britain's Labor Party, former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, today said Red China is governed by "idealists."

He recommended that Red China:

1. Be brought into the newly formed Southeast Asia Treaty Organization; and
2. Be given United Nations membership.

He added that American-backed Nationalist leader Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek should be "retired" and his Formosan island fortress should in time be handed over to the Reds.

Attlee spoke at the British Labor Party's annual conference which opened today.

Stevenson Refuses Comment on McCarthy Report by Committee

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, titular head of the Democratic Party, today refused to comment on the special Senate committee's report recommending censure of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Bishop Urges Daily Prayers for Peace

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UP)—Bishop Albert R. Zurowste head of the Belleville Roman Catholic diocese, Sunday called for daily prayers for peace in a sermon at the major Marian Year observance in southern Illinois.

Bishop Zurowste sang the Pontifical High Mass and delivered the sermon in the outdoor services at the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds before an estimated 8,000 persons. He said prayers are weapons for peace in the "present hour of need."

Nine southern Illinois Roman Catholic clergymen assisted the bishop in the colorful religious service before a specially constructed shrine to the Virgin Mary.

Four Killed, Three Hurt in Collision

DECATUR, Ill. (UP)—Three persons remained in critical condition today from injuries received in an auto collision Sunday which killed four persons, including two small children.

Cars driven by H. C. Hix, 40, Morrisville, and Lloyd Houchins, 35, Bone Gap, collided at a country intersection about 20 miles south of here and five miles east of Assumption.

Killed were Hix' wife, Vinnie, 39; two of their children, Jean, 9, and Dennis, 3, and Houchins. Hix, Houchins' wife Dorris, 34, and his mother, Mrs. Maude Houchins, 70, were critically hurt. A third Hix child, Rebecca, 10, was less seriously injured. They were taken to St. Mary's Hospital here.

Radford Defends Redeployment

DETROIT (UP)—The Communists are "smart enough to realize" that the current withdrawal of four American divisions from Korea strengthens the free world against future Communist aggression, Adm. Arthur Radford said today.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff added that the decision to withdraw the forces was "completely sound" because it will provide the United States with "better striking forces and greater flexibility."

In an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, Radford defended the move against criticism from Republic of Korea leaders who have charged it will leave their country without adequate defense. The present redeployment schedule would leave three American divisions in Korea.

Named Chief Clerk in State Labor Department

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today announced appointment of Elmer R. Gronewold, 54, Springfield, as chief clerk in the State Labor Department effective Oct. 1.

Gronewold will succeed Carl L. McBride, Springfield, who is retiring. Gronewold has been purchasing agent in the state auditor's office since March 1, 1953, and was in the State Finance Department from 1942 to 1949. He was assistant state purchasing agent for two years.

58 Americans Perish In Japanese Typhoon

kaido. There was close liaison... the Toya Maru itself had abandoned sailing once. I cannot understand why she ignored warnings when night came and sailed. Bodies washing ashore today were being collected in a Buddhist temple ground and two large buildings and being laid out for identification.

Coast Guard, national police and shipping company reports of the toll varied, but a late night cross-check by the United Press with official sources showed 625 known dead and 1,177 missing throughout Japan.

Fifty-six of the American dead aboard the Toya Maru were servicemen's families and Army civilian employees and two private American residents of Japan. The 4,300-ton ship caught fire before sinking.

Only one American survived. He was Pfc. Frank Goedken, 21, of Dubuque, Iowa. He escaped through a port hole and fought his way ashore with the aid of a life preserver and a raft.

Goedken said he was in "good shape." He injured a finger and suffered a lacerated arm.

Three Unions Agree To New Swift Contract

CHICAGO (AP)—Three meat packing unions today announced agreement on a new contract with Swift & Co. providing a general wage increase of 5 cents an hour.

The three unions — CIO United Packinghouse Workers, AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and the independent National Brotherhood of Packinghouse Workers — represent about 38,000 Swift employees at Swift plants across the nation. A Swift spokesman said the contracts are retroactive to Sept. 20 and will run for two years, expiring Sept. 1, 1956.

Union spokesmen said the contracts peg the minimum hourly rates at $1.55 for men and $1.51 1-2 for women.

By Al Capp Townspeople Give Merged Firm Vote of Confidence

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A unique vote of confidence from more than 50,000 townspeople and hopes for defense contracts buoyed the new Studebaker-Packard Corp. today in its fight for survival in the highly competitive automotive industry.

Some 57,000 persons filled Notre Dame Stadium here Sunday to express their "faith in the future" of the recently merged corporation and the industry that has been a mainstay of this community for three generations.

Their faith in the future was bolstered even more when Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott told them that the "Air Force would be delighted if it could find a contract to place with the new Studebaker-Packard consolidation."

Officially, the rally was a "plant party" to welcome James J. Nance, president of the new corporation, to South Bend, and to unveil the 1955 Studebaker models. Unofficially, it was a public demonstration by management and workers to show that Studebaker-Packard is not "dead" in the highly competitive auto industry. It was only last August that 11,000 Studebaker workers agreed to take pay cuts to enable the company to gain a better competitive position in the field.

The crowd that packed the stadium cheered wildly when Talbott said "I sincerely hope the Air Force will be able to use the facilities of the Studebaker-Packard Corp. to maintain the finest Air Force in the world."

Nance told Talbott "We are hopeful of being able to do that before too long a time."

Father Surrenders on Charges of Murdering Daughter, 7, in Florida

BALTIMORE — James T. Roberts surrendered to police today and agreed to return to Florida to face charges that he murdered his seven-year-old daughter in Miami last July.

He was accompanied by his attractive wife, his attorney, and a minister. He smiled at reporters and told them "the battle has just started."

After a brief midnight conference with Baltimore and Miami authorities, Roberts agreed to waive extradition to Florida at his arraignment today before Circuit Judge J. Howard Murray.

Indicted Secretly

Magistrate Thomas J. Hughes signed the warrant for Roberts' arrest after being notified that a Dade County, Fla., grand jury had secretly indicted him for the kidnap-murder of his daughter, Judith Ann Roberts.

The girl's body was found in a clump of bushes on the outskirts of Miami last July 7 a few hours after she had disappeared from a sofa in her grandparents' home where she was sleeping.

She had been beaten and strangled with strips from her nightgown. Authorities at first believed she had been the victim of a sex crime but an inquest indicated she might have been molested to make it appear to be a crime of passion. Roberts asserted he was out with a client at the time she was kidnapped.

Methodist Minister One of Americans Aboard Toya Maru

CHICAGO — Methodist minister Dean Leeper, 31, a native of Canton, Ill., was listed as one of the Americans aboard the Toya Maru when it capsized in the typhoon which struck Japan Sunday.

Leeper recently attended the second Assembly of the World Council of Churches which met in Evanston. He was a speaker for the World Student Christian Federation conference.

A YMCA World Service Program worker in Tokyo, Leeper is the son of Harry Leeper, Canton. He is married and the father of three children, Steven, 6, David, 4, and Linda, 2.

Teen-Age Baby Sitter, Boy, 4, Fatally Stabbed

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Police believed today that a pretty teenager apparently knew the tall thin man who fatally stabbed her and the four-year-old boy she was minding.

The baby sitter, Lynn Ann Smith, 14, and her charge, four-year-old Stephen Goldberg, were stabbed at least 62 times by their assailant in the most fiendish double murder that authorities here could recall. The victims also were beaten with a hammer after death.

The horribly mangled bodies were discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Goldberg when the couple returned from a movie to their fashionable Summer Avenue home late Saturday night.

The girl, a ninth grade student, lay in a pool of blood in a hallway leading from the front door. The child was found dead in his bed.

Lynn was stabbed 38 times, little Stephen 24.

The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, who live only a few blocks from the Goldberg home.

McCarthy to Wage Senate Fight Against Censure

WASHINGTON — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is prepared to wage a "vigorous and lengthy" fight in the Senate against the recommendation that he be censured, his lawyer said today.

But the lawyer said it would be "mere speculation" for him to predict how long.

The attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, told newsmen he "of course" thinks the report of the Senate's special-censure committee is wrong "where it recommends censure."

"If Sen. McCarthy did anything wrong, it was the duty of these senators to rise on Jan. 3 (1953), when McCarthy was seated) and call attention to it," Williams said.

He said the three senators who brought the censure charges—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore)—were present on the floor of the Senate the day McCarthy took his seat after his reelection.

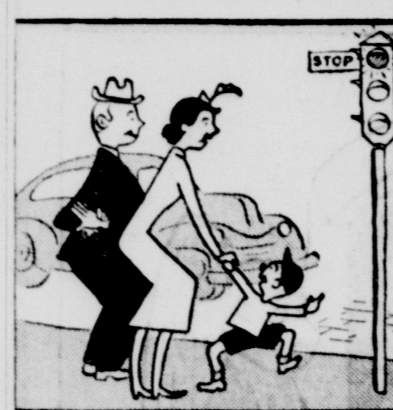

"No voice was raised about his conduct," Williams said.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
 Secretary of State

Once again, we want to call attention to one of the basic rules for pedestrian traffic safety: Cross streets at intersections, not in the middle of a block or anywhere else between intersections.

More than three times as many pedestrians lost their lives during 1953 while attempting to cross a street between intersections than under any other circumstances. That one foolish action accounted for almost 40 per cent of pedestrian deaths.

You have everything in your favor when you take the time to reach an intersection before trying to cross a street. At that point, the law grants you the right-of-way over vehicular traffic (Section 74a, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic), drivers are more alert to the possibility of pedestrian traffic and they are usually traveling at slower rates of speed than they are between intersections.

When you attempt to cross between intersections, you are required to grant the right-of-way. (Section 75a, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to: CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Integrity of FHA Is Restored, Eisenhower Says

CHICAGO — President Eisenhower said today the integrity of the Federal Housing Administration, whose reputation was "injured by a few faithless men," has been restored.

"The American people can have real confidence in the agency (FHA) and its operations," Mr. Eisenhower said in a message to the 41st annual convention of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

The President's expression of confidence was believed to be his first direct comment on the FHA since the agency came under investigation by the Senate Banking committee for mortgage irregularities and "windfall" profit-taking. "The Federal Housing Administration is a great agency of the federal government whose reputation, unfortunately, has been injured by our exposure of the past misdoings of a few faithless men," the President's message read.

Message Read

"We have resolutely faced the triple responsibility of bringing to justice all cases of demonstrable fraud, of correcting deficiencies disclosed by our investigations and placing the FHA program in the hands of incorruptible men," Mr. Eisenhower wrote.

"The integrity of the FHA has been restored," the President continued. "We recognize the great contributions which the agency has made in the past years, and we are determined to develop it into a stronger and better organization."

"Thus the American people can have real confidence in the agency and its operations," Mr. Eisenhower said.

The President's message was read to nearly 3,000 members attending the convention by MBA President William A. Clarke.

U. S., Canada to Build Radar Net

WASHINGTON — The United States and Canada have agreed to build a radar net across the "far northern part of North America" to provide warning against possible enemy bomber attacks, the Defense Department announced today.

The new "dew" line, which will stretch across thousands of miles of frozen, uninhabited territory, will be financed by the two countries but details have not yet been agreed upon.

No Wonder Mothers Love this Relief from Suffering of Colds

DOES MORE THAN WORK ON CHEST!

Nothing works like Vicks VapoRub to relieve suffering of colds. VapoRub does more than just work on the chest. It acts two ways at once.

1. VapoRub relieves muscular soreness and tightness, stimulates chest surfaces.

2. At the same time, VapoRub's special medicated vapors also bring relief with every breath.

You can't see these vapors, but you can feel them as they travel deep into the nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Soon you enjoy warming relief that lasts for hours.

So when colds strike, use the best-known home remedy to relieve such suffering — Vicks VapoRub.

Romonosky Bats, Hurls Merchants To 4-1 Victory Over Corydon, Ky.

Big John Romonosky swung a heavy bat while hurling a masterful four-hit 4-1 win over Jim Wallace and the Corydon Lions of Kentucky Sunday afternoon in what several Corydon fans called the best game seen at Corydon this season.

The Merchants raked Wallace for ten safeties which included a tremendous home run by Big John in the seventh inning with a mate aboard. The round tripper was one of three safeties by Romonosky who was matched in the sixth by Harold Guiley with three for five. Dick Romonosky, Jim Hay, Frank Logsdon and Fred Williams picked up safeties to swell out the ten-hit total.

Romonosky used an assortment of curves, a blazing fast ball and a good change-up curve to whiff seven Corydon batters while permitting no bases on balls. Jim Wallace, the former Boston Brave, showed a good curve ball in striking out ten Harrisburg hitters but two Corydon errors and three free passes were costly to the little pitcher. Wallace delivered the blow which drove across the only Corydon run.

Wallace looked good in the second inning by pitching out of a jam with runners on second and third. Big John beat out a slow bouncer to third and raced to third on Jim Hay's double to right, but the scuffling threat was blocked when the southpaw struck out the next man and got the third out on a tap to the mound.

The Merchants trailed in the fourth inning when Guiley singled and raced home on a single by Romonosky and a throwing error by the Corydon centerfielder. Harrisburg added another run in the sixth stanza when Parton reached second on an error by the Corydon shortstop and tallied as Logsdon slashed a single to left.

Big John helped his own cause in the seventh when he hit one of Wallace's fast balls far over the centerfield fence with Guiley on base.

Corydon made its bid in the eighth when Payne singled, reached second after kicking the ball out of the baseman's glove and scored as Wallace hit one just out of Freddie Williams' reach into left field.

Dick Romonosky did a fine job of handling the pitches of his brother and again received favorable comments from the crowd.

Several Harrisburg fans made the trip to Corydon to see the game and many of the local people stated that Big John looked much better as a hurler than he did a year ago.

Romonosky, who was offered a per cent of the gate receipts, donated his share to the Merchant ball club. He, too, stated that next year he hopes to bring a group of pro players to Harrisburg for an exhibition game after the season is completed.

Mays is National League Batting Champ at .345

Beats Out Mueller, Snider in Race; Williams Retires

By United Press
It was the end of a great career for Ted Williams today but only the beginning for Willie Mays—the wondrous new star of major league baseball.

In a script that would make Hollywood blush, the 36-year-old Williams announced his retirement on the day the 23-year-old Mays duplicated one of Ted's most dramatic hours in winning the National league batting title.

It was just 13 years ago that Williams blasted six hits in eight times at bat on the final day of the campaign to win his first American league batting crown with a .406 average. Ted went on to win three more titles and compile a lifetime batting mark of .348—a figure exceeded only by Ty Cobb's .367. Rogers Hornsby's .358 and Shoeless Joe Jackson's .355.

In a similar dramatic setting, Mays Sunday hammered out three hits in four tries against 23-game winner Robin Roberts to win his three-way struggle with teammate Don Mueller and Brooklyn's Duke Snider and annex the N. L. crown with a .345 mark. In the closest finish since 1931 when Chick Hafey won the N. L. title, Mueller finished at .342 and Snider at .341.

Mays, who started the game with 3422 compared to Snider's 3425 and Mueller's 3426, cracked a single, double and triple off Roberts as the New York Giants squeezed out an 11-inning 3-2 triumph. Mueller made a gallant bid with two hits in six tries while Snider went 0-for-3 in the Brooklyn Dodgers' 10-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rookie southpaw Karl Spooner set a National league record and equaled a major league standard when he struck out 12 Pirates and hurled his second straight shutout. Spooner's two-game total of 27 strikeouts topped the N. L. mark held by Dazzy Vance.

Williams had one hit, a homer, in four trips as the Red Sox swamped the Washington Senators, 11-2, completing the campaign with a .345 average and 29 homers. Williams led 14 at bats short of the necessary 400 to be recognized as the official A. L. batting champion, that honor going to Cleveland's Bobby Avila, who wound up with a fine .341 mark. Avila went 1-for-2 Sunday in the Indians' 13-inning, 8-7 loss to the Detroit Tigers.

Cards Shutout Braves

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs beat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 5-2, in the other National league games while the Philadelphia Athletics downed the New York Yankees, 8-6, in the other American league game. Chicago and Baltimore were idle.

Harvey Haddix and Brooks Lawrence collaborated in an 11-inning, nine-hitter which the Cardinals won when Wally Moon hit a two-run homer off Ernie Johnson. Despite the victory, the Cardinals finished in sixth place—their lowest windup since 1938.

Bob Rush tossed a six-hitter to gain his 13th win of the campaign for the Cubs, who banged out 10 hits. The Sox charged to Joe Nuxhall, cost the Redlegs a chance to share fourth-place with the Phillies.

Louisville Wins American Ass'n Playoff

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—The Indianapolis Indians, winners of nearly every regular season honor, lost their chance for post-season glory when Louisville scored a play-off clinching 3-1 victory on home ground.

The Sunday win gave the Colonels a 4-1 edge in the final American Association series and the right to meet the winner of the International league play-offs for the Little World Series championship.

Looking AT Sports

DON LIDDLE'S CAP bore a large "M" for Milwaukee last fall when he appeared here. He now wears the New York Giant uniform. Liddle may draw a starting assignment in one of the World Series games just ahead.

By ED KIRKPATRICK
A likeable, little southpaw hurler who captured the admiration and imagination of Harrisburg baseball fans when he pitched post-season ball here last fall may draw a starting assignment in World Series play this year. He is Don Liddle, of the New York Giants, and a native of Mt. Carmel, Ill.

Liddle will be remembered by fans here as the relaxed little guy with the easy manner who opposed Harrisburg's big John Romonosky in a couple ball games on the park diamond last fall. At that time, Romonosky had just finished a six weeks' stint with the St. Louis Cardinals, and Liddle had concluded a season with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Mt. Carmel native is now winding up another regular season with a big league ball club, but this time with the pennant winning Giants. And post-season play this year will probably pit him against the Cleveland Indians in mammoth Cleveland stadium or the Polo grounds. For Liddle has done well for the Giants, winning nine while losing only four. His latest victory, a five-hit shutout, came last Friday at the expense of Philadelphia.

Many sports writers and prognosticators look for Manager Leo Durocher to name the Illinois product as a starter in one of the World Series games. Local fans are hoping the Liddle fella gets his chance, and you can bet they'll be rootin' for him.

Liddle's first step up the professional ladder was at Auburn, N. Y., in 1946. Here he won six, lost three with the Border League Class C club. In 1947, playing with Evansville, Ind., in the Three-I League, Class B, he won one, lost one. The last two months of this season he played with Mt. Vernon, Ill., in the Class D, Illinois State League. Here he set a league strikeout record for one game, whiffing 19. He also made the All-Star team and won 12 while losing only three.

In 1948, he won six and lost five with Pawtucket, R. I., of the New England league. The following year he returned to Pawtucket and had an 11-2 record before being called up to Hartford, Conn.—a Class A league club. At Hartford, he won eight, lost five. In 1950 and 1951, he served with Atlanta, winning 20 of the 20 first year in 1950, and 14 of 20 the second. In 1952, he hurled for the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association, winning 17 of 21. He was named to the AA All-Star team, led the league in strikeouts, earned runs and percentage of won and lost. He was also named to Look Magazine's All-American Minor League club of that season.

Liddle's first full year with a major league club came last year with the Milwaukee Braves. With the 1953 Braves, he won six, lost six in the big time. He pitched 34 innings, finishing with a commendable earned run average of 3.05. Prior to the opening of the 1954 season, Liddle and Johnny Antonelli figured in a trade which sent them to the New York Giants for Bobby Thomson.

The Mt. Carmel ace, looked up on at the time by some as merely a closer in the deal, expressed his delight with the transfer. He felt the move to the Giants would bring him more opportunities to hurl. It did, and the Giant management is benefitting more each day by his presence.

Liddle, whose hobbies are golf and hunting, is married and has three boys. His wife, he says, is his "greatest rooter and has traveled to all points with me. It's tough but she never blinks an eye."

Badger-Spartan Tilt Highlight in Big 10 This Week

CHICAGO (UP)—Eight non-conference games were on tap this week for Big Ten football teams with only one conference game on the program—Wisconsin at Michigan State in a game involving two of the top-rated teams in the league.

Wisconsin warmed up for its first conference clash with a one-sided 52-14 win over Marquette Saturday as Jim Miller and Jim Haluska gained 183 yards on 10 pass completions in 12 tries.

But the Spartans, trying to retain the Big Ten championship they shared with Illinois last year, ran into a rough-and-tumble Iowa club which came out with a 14-10 win.

Matheson Sparks Iowans
Substitute halfback Eldean Matheson sparked the Hawkeye victory, returning a Michigan State punt 53 yards to the Spartan three in the final period to set up a plunge for the winning score by Jerry Reichow.

It was likely, however, that the Badger-Spartan battle will be rated an even scarier.
Three Pacific Coast Conference teams will meet Big Ten opponents, Illinois, a surprise victim of Penn State Saturday, 14-12, despite J. C. Caroline's 118 yards in 18 tries, will travel to Stanford.

California will appear at Ohio State, which Saturday opened its Big Ten campaign with a 28-0 win over Indiana as both Bobby Watkins and Howard Cassidy scored twice. Southern California will play at Northwestern, which tallied twice in the fourth period Saturday to trip Iowa State, 27-14.

Army at Michigan
Two other western clubs also will play against the Big Ten with College of the Pacific traveling to Indiana while Montana invades Iowa.

Eastern foes will include Army, upset by South Carolina Saturday, at Michigan, which beat Washington, 14-0, as Lou Baldacci scored four touchdowns. Minnesota, a 19-7 winner over Nebraska Saturday in Murray Warmath's Big Ten coaching debut, will travel to Pittsburgh.
Purdue, uncovering a star sophomore Len Dawson who threw four touchdown passes in a 31-0 win over Missouri, will go to Notre Dame for an extra-state spectacle ranking with the best games in the country Saturday.

Eldorado Merchants Defeat Nash, 7-6, On Raleigh Diamond

The Harrisburg Nash baseball club dropped its 11th game of the season Sunday afternoon to the Eldorado Merchants by a score of 7-6. The game was played on the Raleigh town park diamond, giving Eldorado a record of 11 wins and five losses and Nash has 15 victories to go with 11 defeats.

Bartnicki was on the hill for Eldorado, going the distance, allowing nine hits, six runs, striking out five and walking none. His catcher was Hartford.

Wallace, Nash hurler, also went the distance, allowing 10 hits, seven runs, striking out five, walking four and hit one. His batterymate was Stone.

Beasley and Thaxton paced the Eldorado hitting attack with three hits each. Malone, Gidcomb, Pulliam and Hartford each had one. For Nash, Karnes, Shewmake and Fulkerson had two safe blows each and K. Nolen, Harrison and Sisk each had one.

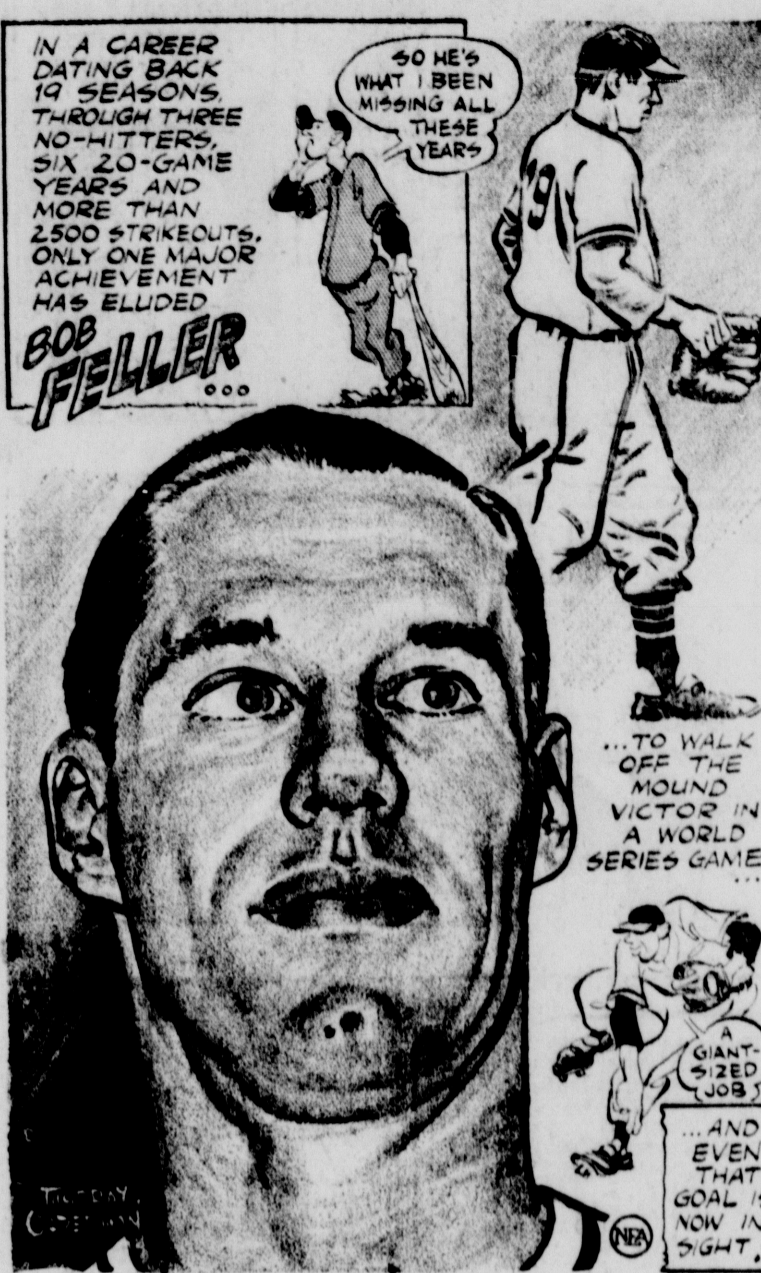

Next Sunday, Oct. 3, Nash will meet a club composed of former players from this area. The old timers team will be managed by Charles Nelson and the game will be played on the town park diamond.

Baseball Writers Favor Indians To Win Series

NEW YORK (UP)—Among the nation's baseball writers, it's the Cleveland Indians by a vote of more than 2 to 1 to beat the New York Yankees in the 1954 World Series.

A United Press poll of 82 writers in every league city and vicinity showed today that the Indians are favored by 66 "experts" and the Giants by 26. The odds on the series favor Cleveland, 17 to 10. A plurality of 39 writers chose the Indians to win the series in

Dodgers' Reese Nominates Dark As N.L.'s Most Valuable Player

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—Pee Wee Reese, a strong candidate himself, nominates his illustrious contemporary, Alvin Dark, as the National League's most valuable player.

Shortstop Reese enjoyed his greatest year, especially at bat, in a valiant, but vain, effort to hold the Dodgers together.

Willie Mays and Johnny Antonelli are other Giants who rate high in the MVP balloting. They contributed most generously to moving the New York Nationals from fifth place to the World Series.

But the Polo Grounders point out how much Dark has meant. Their captain plays winning baseball on a daily basis in a style which many times fails to crop in the box score or records. And he has started every game the Giants played this season.

Playing out the string, the quiet-spoken former Louisiana State football star had a batting average close to .300. He had knocked in nearly 70 runs, batting from the No. 2 position, and he figured to wind up the season with 100 runs scored.

That's pretty good playing for anybody, but the Giants yell out, "He is leading both leagues in grounding out to advance a runner."

The Giants mean that Dark, the backbone of the hit-and-run attack with which they hope to take full advantage of the Indians' defense, is a master at moving a runner along.

"If he gets on with a hit, that's fine," Leo Durocher says. "But the big things he worries about is getting that man up a base. If we have a guy on first and we want to get him to second, Dark is the guy to do it. He'll slap that ball behind the runner, drag it—do anything."

"But he'll move the guy along and we are in business. If some body gets a hit, he's done that a lot, and it never shows up in the box score. He just grounded out or it was a fielder's choice. Yet the guy hits around .300 while playing a bang-up game at shortstop. What more do you want?"

Talk about the Cleveland club having a breeze ends when the name of Dark is brought up. He is the nine-inning guy generally rated as the most dangerous of the Giants. He is one of the big players of the game.

"He grows on you," says Eddie Stanky, the Cardinal manager who teamed with Dark as a Brave and Giant.

At first, the observer figures Dark as a solid man, but not much more. Watching him for a bit, the observer sees Alvin coming in on a slowly-hit grounder and starting a double play which appears routine from the stands, but which brings a yell from the Giants' dugout.

"That was a professional play," Manager Durocher would say later, "the kind you win with. Most shortstops would have gotten only one man on that one. It was a tough play, but our guy gets two."

So, when you're doing your pre-series thinking, you had better spend a little time mulling over the high-waisted and fleet Alvin Dark. He's a good man with a bat in his hands and matches his work at the plate in the field.

The Playing Professional, as teammates call him, is not the kind you lose with.

Wave of Upsets Hits Illinois, Army, Michigan State, Georgia Tech; Irish Ride Crest With 21-0 Win Over Texas

By United Press
They're still bailing out today after the football season's first wave of upsets at such famed schools as Michigan State, Army, Georgia Tech, and Illinois, but at Notre Dame the Fighting Irish and their new 26-year-old coach, Terry Brennan, seemed to be riding the crest toward new glory.

For, on the strength of their mighty 21-0 triumph over Texas on Saturday in their debut under Brennan, it now seems certain the Irish will be just as strong a contender for the national title this year under a "boy wonder" as they were in the past under "old master" Frank Leahy.

It was the first time Texas had been shut out since 1946, breaking a string of 76 games, and such defensive power added to the already-known potent Irish attack left observers marvelling.

The Notre Dame victory appeared all the more impressive because it came on one of the most shocking Saturdays ever experienced by "big name" teams. Mighty Michigan State, the Rose Bowl champion, was going down before Iowa 14-10, in full view of a nationwide television audience; South Carolina was humiliating Army, 34-20; Florida was surprising Georgia Tech, 13-12; and Penn State was road-blocking Illinois' famed attack, 14-12.

Other Upsets
And there were a host of lesser surprises such as Colgate's 19-14 win over Cornell; Dartmouth's 27-26 last second victory over Holy Cross; and Duke's ridiculously easy 52-0 rout of Pennsylvania.

A 52-yard punt return by Eldean Matheson set up Iowa's fourth-period touchdown that beat Michigan State and catapulted the Hawkeyes into the race for national honors.

The Army and Penn State results radically shifted pre-season "dope" on the strength of eastern teams, making the Nittany Lions now the hottest candidate for top eastern honors instead of the Carolina Heels. Beaten for only the third time in 65 opening games, Army fumbled away three scoring chances against the inspired Carolinians. Meanwhile, Don Bailey passed to six-eight Jesse Arnette for one Penn State score and raced 60 yards to set up the other.

Bobby Lance set up Florida's first win over Georgia Tech since 1941 by scoring one touchdown and passing to pave the way for the other but it was his sub, Dick Allen, who booted the payoff extra point.

Oklahoma, most impressive winner of the opening week's program with a telecast triumph over California, followed up Saturday with a hair-raising 21-16 win over Texas Christian when Buddy Leake's 50-yard punt return set up the winning fourth period touchdown. But it was an expensive win, for Sooners quarterback whiz Gene Calame suffered a chipped collarbone and will be operated on today.

Among the other impressive winners Saturday were Navy, which overwhelmed William and Mary 27-0, by gaining 352 yards; Georgia, which beat Clemson, 14-7, as

Rocks, Flyers Boast 23-Game Winning Streaks

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Rock Island and East St. Louis galloped along neck-and-neck today in quest of their third straight unbeaten and untied Illinois prep football seasons.

The Rocks and the Flyers both sport nifty 23-game winning streaks. Already, it begins to look questionable whether any of the foes on their 1954 cards can muster what it takes to stop these perennial powers.

East St. Louis bowled over one of the tougher opponents on its schedule Saturday when the Flyers whipped Peoria Manual 39-14.

Manual can console itself with the fact it became only the second team in 13 games to tally 14 points against Coach Wirt Downing's crew, which had three shutouts to its credit last year.

Rocks Keep Pace
Rock Island kept up with East St. Louis with its 23rd win in a row Friday night, a 35-14 decision over Northwest Conference foe Canton.

Only four other teams from the 16 which completed perfect 1953 charts are still untopped this season—Barrington, Chenoa, Lake Forest Academy and Wheaton. Barrington whitewashed Libertyville 14-0 Saturday; the Broncos' 48th win in their last 53 games. Lake Forest Academy downed Milwaukee University High 27-7. Wheaton beat Marinette, Wis., 14-0, and Chenoa smothered Lexington 40-0 in other weekend outtings.

Conference play was launched in some of the major downstate circuits. Early leaders include Centralia, Harrisburg, Herrin, Murphysboro, Decatur and Mendota. Centralia looked rugged in walloping Benton 32-13 in the South Seven. Herrin sidetracked Mount Vernon 21-6 while Harrisburg dealt Marion a 25-7 setback in other South Seven collisions. Murphysboro's mighty Red Devils unleashed a withering attack to roll over Pinckneyville 41-0 in the Southwestern Egyptian. Sparta and Chester captured their openers in that league, too.

THE STORY: A number of mysterious events have puzzled Private Detective Jim Dunn and Nancy, his wife, when they arrive at The Spire, part of the Carlson estate. Jim and Nancy, posing as caretakers, are to "get something" on Mrs. Hilton Carlson, mother-in-law of their client, Mrs. Kit Carlson. The latest unusual occurrence was to find that Mrs. Hilton had prepared the place they were to live in for house-party guests. Mrs. Hilton is perturbed at Dunn's occupancy.

The place was tiny. It was clean. The furnishings were all French provincial. It was a miniature gem of a place.

"First place I ever saw built on your scale, Nancy," Jim said. "I can see I'm going to have to be careful about stretching. One stretch in the living room and I'd poke my arm out through the kitchen window."

"It's wonderful! It—Oh Jim, you don't suppose they'll come back for these furnishings, too, do you? This is the dearest house. Like a dream, Jim. My dream anyway. A—A real honeymoon cottage I guess."

At a quarter past five, a limousine drove slowly down the steep grade, rumbled across the bridge and came to a stop. Jim walked over and opened the rear door, helped out the heavily veiled figure of his client. She stood beside him without a word, made no attempt to enter the house until he had helped out the other occupant of the back seat.

She was a huge woman, with rolling upon roll of fat pushing and bulging her tightly stretched pasty white skin. Her nose was a small red blob, like a currant set in a too suety pudding.

She held out both hands, small hands looking out of place at the ends of her floursack arms. Jim took those hands. They were hot.

Yet once on her feet on solid ground, she showed an ability for motion which was surprising.

Mrs. Carlson paid off the driver, waited until he had turned the car and started the climb back toward the plateau before she spoke.

"This is Mrs. Gelstrap. My cook, and my friend. I don't know what I'd do without her."

The massive face broke into a broad smile, and a giggle came out. Her voice was high, with just the suggestion of a whine when she said, "How you do carry on."

Jim whirled around, saw that Nancy was walking toward them on the path from the caretaker's cabin.

Mrs. Carlson spoke before he could find words. "But of course. I did tell you to bring a woman along." Her eyes narrowed. "And wearing pants." She turned toward the open front door. "I must say I find a woman in tight pants quite suggestive. I'll let you know if there is anything I want."

Nancy kept silent until she had her husband inside the caretaker's cabin and fixed him a cup of coffee. "Now tell me," she insisted. "I suppose she said something about me?"

"She doesn't like women in pants," Jim muttered.

"The poor thing," Nancy said. She jumped from her perch on the arm of Jim's chair, ran into the bedroom. He followed slowly, half expecting to find her in tears. But she was very busy throwing her clothes from both the closet and the partially unpacked suitcases.

From time to time, she held up a garment, glared at it in speculation and either discarded it completely or put it on a growing pile on the bed. "The possibilities," she explained.

"You getting ready to leave?" Jim asked.

"Not me," she said firmly. "But I'm not going to let my appearance be a hindrance to you in your work."

Jim walked grumpily to the end of the small wharf which extended a few feet out into the lake. He had the feeling his client would summon him as soon as she saw him fishing, and he mumbled the well-chosen words he intended to use.

He had four fish in his creel, the largest a good 14 inches and the smallest 13, when he heard the sound of a motor, and saw the outboard speedboat putting toward him.

Even from some distance he had no difficulty making out the now familiar set smile Philip seemed always to wear. The man handled the small boat skillfully, brought it around in a sweeping turn which sent a wave splashing against the steel supports of the pier.

Philip let the boat glide to a stop about 20 feet out. "Have a message for you."

"All right. Let's have it. You're scaring the fish."

"Too bad, chum. The message is from Mrs. Hilton. Mrs. Hilton Carlson. She sent me over to tell you the fish in this lake belong to her. You're not to catch any."

Censure of McCarthy Is Recommended

ing somewhere in Arizona.

The last time the Senate censured a member was Nov. 2, 1929 when it voted 54-22 to censure Sen. Hiram W. Bingham (R-Conn.) for taking a tariff lobbyist into a closed meeting of the Senate Finance Committee, which was considering tariff legislation.

The censure committee considered 46 overlapping charges against McCarthy, made by Sens. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.), Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.) and J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

At its public hearings it lumped 13 of these into five general charges.

As for the remaining accusations, it held that some were not a proper basis for censure, even if true; that some were too vague; that some represented personal opinion; and that some were of such a nature as to require more time to investigate than the committee had.

Committee Reviews Tangle

The committee reviewed at length the history of McCarthy's tangle with the elections subcommittee which investigated charges and counter-charges between him and then Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.).

McCarthy had contended in his defense before the Watkins group that his attitude toward this group was warranted. He said it was illegally constituted and that it exceeded its authority in investigating activities that took place before he came to the Senate.

He also said he was not subpoenaed, and that he would have appeared before the committee had he been.

The censure group held on these points that:

1. The elections subcommittee was lawfully constituted.
2. It was not acting beyond its authority.
3. It was not necessary that the subcommittee subpoena McCarthy; it invited him repeatedly to appear and "it was his duty" to do so.

It rejected McCarthy's argument that the elections subcommittee was illegal and without jurisdiction to investigate his affairs.
